FROM THE COVER:

The U.S. National Mammal

The biography of an improbable, shaggy beast that has found itself at the center of many of the country's most mythic and heartbreaking tales. The series, which has been in production for four years, will take viewers on a journey through more than 10,000 years of North American history and across some of the continent's most iconic landscapes, tracing the mammal's evolution, its significance to the Great Plains and, most importantly, its relationship to the Indigenous People of North America.

For thousands of generations, buffalo have evolved alongside Indigenous people who relied on them for food and shelter, and, in exchange for killing them, revered the animal. The stories of Native people anchor the series, including the Kiowa, Comanche and Cheyenne of the Southern Plains; the Pawnee of the Central Plains; the Salish, Kootenai, Lakota, Mandan-Hidatsa, Aaniiih, Crow, Northern Cheyenne and Blackfeet from the Northern Plains; and others.

"It is a quintessentially American story," Ken Burns said, "filled with unforgettable stories and people. But it is also a morality tale encompassing two historically significant lessons that resonate today: how humans can damage the natural world and also how we can work together to make choices to preserve the environment around us. The story of the American buffalo is also the story of Native nations who lived with and relied on the buffalo to survive, developing a sacred relationship that evolved over more than 10,000 years but which was almost completely severed in fewer than 100."

AMONG FRIENDS

A Welcomed Visitor from the North!

Over the years, you may have read/seen/heard our mission statement – “KSPS PBS provides on-air, online and multimedia programs that entertain, engage, and educate to enrich all of the communities we serve. “

The “all of the communities” part is important...and essential. KSPS is viewed in four states (Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Montana,) and two Canadian provinces (Alberta and British Columbia.)

While we travel as best we can to visit our Friends, Viewers, and Donors – we rarely get the opportunity to host our Canadian Board members here in Spokane...until recently.

Please meet one of our newest KSPS Board members - Nikki Kennedy. She lives in Edmonton, has been a Sustaining member of KSPS since 2010, and one of our most dependable volunteers. She’s also one of the nicest people you’ll ever meet.

So, when Nikki let us know she’d be in Spokane, we made sure to show her how much she’s appreciated. KSPS Staff and Board Members attended a reception for Nikki, we took plenty of pictures (see below,) and most importantly, we had the chance to thank her for all she’s done with us and for KSPS.

Thanks Nikki...come visit any time!

Introducing Skyler Reep: A New Fiscal Year, A Bright Fiscal Future

As we enter a new fiscal year, I am delighted to introduce myself as the new Development Director of KSPS PBS. Many of you may already know me as the Membership Director, a role I’ve proudly held for the past six years. I’m immensely excited and grateful for the opportunity to take on this new responsibility and continue serving our community through KSPS PBS.

Before we dive into our plans for the future, let’s celebrate the strong fiscal foundation of our organization. Thanks to your support, KSPS PBS remains financially robust. We encourage you to keep an eye on our fiscal health by visiting KSPS.org and accessing our IRS Form 990 and other documents. KSPS PBS is rooted in our four HD channels broadcasting captivating content across the Inland Northwest and Canada, but we are more than a public television station. We are an active local nonprofit organization engaged in meaningful charity work within our community. From Arts and Culture to Education, Civic Health to Workforce Development, we are dedicated to making a tangible impact.

In Memory

I extend my heartfelt thanks for all that you’ve done in support of our mission. I am excited to work alongside you to expand the impact of KSPS PBS. Together, we are the home of thoughtful, thought-provoking programming on air and online, while making a vibrant difference in our community.
